I totally agree. My new documents and our contacts will ensure that we can deliver on getting the story out and hence deliver on the first deal you have been offered. Not sure if the reporter on 'The Times' will agree to trade - possibly. For the second project, I will compile a summary of the vast archive of docs and e-mail it to you on Wednesday, because I am travelling over next two days.

I think we can definitely get the story out through some friends of mine, if not yours. One way or the other, it'll definitely work. I also wonder if your friend at the Sunday T would possibly be amenable to a trade?
